Technology – All in One

Applying patented technology, your individual micronutrients are processed to granulate in Switzerland. Then they are blended to form an exclusive food supplement under your proprietary brand.

You can choose from more than 120 micronutrients (minerals, amino acids, vitamins, herbal extracts, superfood).

Your customers' benefit: all selected micronutrients can be consumed at once. This saves both to buy and take various products.

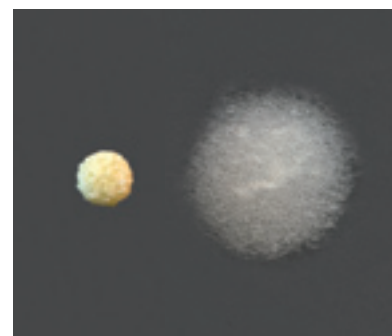

HEPART AG – more than 30 years of experience in metabolic medicine and micronutrient supplements

We know which micronutrients are fundamental human needs and how they can arrive near-naturally at the body's biomatrix. This unique know-how helps us to support you all the way, from design to gain of your proprietary micronutrient formulations and food supplements.

Biomatrix

Gently and without any chemicals, the micronutrients are incorporated with an herbal water-hydrocolloid biomatrix and then granulated. Now the nutrients are present as dissolved hydrocolloids – just like in fruits and vegetables. This ensures perfect bioavailability and resorption from biomatrix to biomatrix.
